

Navigate the evolving tech terrain with ease and effectiveness.

Atlas Fulcrum is a Software as a Service (SaaS) platform that equips national security professionals for acquisition warfare. This research and decision-making tool helps you circumvent the challenges of a slow, complex and vulnerable acquisition system in order to rapidly deliver transformative capabilities for your mission needs.

- ✓ Discover advanced technologies and providers
- ✓ Analyze financials, contracts & more to determine company maturity & applicability
- ✓ Manage your portfolio using workflow & collaboration tools

How Can I Use Atlas Fulcrum?

Atlas Fulcrum pulls from and bundles access to public, commercial, and government data sources organized around the information most relevant to national security use cases. This enables you to rapidly find, analyze, and select companies in order to test, prototype, and transition critical and emerging technologies.

Campaign Management

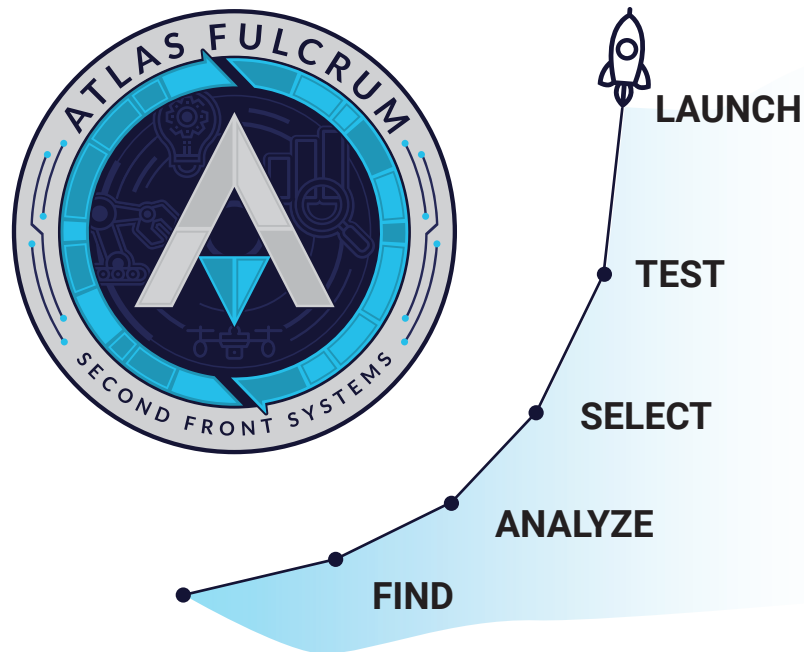

Scope acquisition campaigns, map the tech terrain in your sector of interest, and coordinate operations. With our workflow and collaboration tools, you'll be able to effectively manage your portfolio as companies progress through your evaluation process.
